

Anatomy of a Near Miss

Good Catch!

A good catch can be made in any setting by any clinician, manager or staff member.

A near miss or a close call is an event that did not reach a patient but only because of chance or timely intervention. It's a good catch and a WIN for patients and staff because it presents the opportunity to take corrective action and prevent future risk or harm.

Near Miss Reporting: It's all about LEARNING!

A near miss caught today could prevent an occurrence from happening tomorrow!

Learn to Report. Report to Learn.
